The following standard terms apply to Licensee's use of the Software.

Limited Use Right

Client may not rent or lease the Software or provide commercial IT, hosting, or timesharing services to any third party. Client may not sublicense, assign, or transfer the license for any Software (except to the extent assignment or transfer may not be legally restricted or as is expressly permitted in a TD or as otherwise agreed by Company in writing).

Client may not use the Software if failure or interruption of the Software could lead to death, serious bodily injury, or property or environmental damage

- Authorized User

Authorized User is a unit of measure by which the Software can be licensed. An Authorized User is a unique person who is given access to the Software. The Software may be installed on any number of computers or servers and each Authorized User may have simultaneous access to any number of instances of the Software at one time. Client must obtain separate, dedicated entitlements for each Authorized User given access to the Software in any manner directly or indirectly (for example: via a multiplexing program, device, or application server) through any means. An entitlement for an Authorized User is unique to that Authorized User and may not be shared, nor may it be reassigned other than for the permanent transfer of the Authorized User entitlement to another person.

- Authorized User Entitlements for Software designated as "Professional"

Authorized User entitlements for any Software designated as "Professional" in the Software name authorize a third party person not employed by the Client (and Client's affiliates) to access the Software solely to view data or provide input and data to Client in support of delivering the service delivery program.

In addition to the above, the following terms apply to Licensee's use of the Software.

Legacy License Types (not available to new Clients)

Legacy Contract, Legacy Internal User, Legacy External User, Legacy Professional Workspace User, and Legacy Public Access are units of measure by which the Software can be licensed. Legacy license types are license types that are no longer actively marketed by Company. Company may, however, at its sole and exclusive discretion, agree to increase Client's existing entitlements to use certain versions of Software ("Legacy Software") under a Legacy license type. Software licensed under a Legacy license type are indicated by the notation "Legacy", in the Software Name on a PoE. Client's use of all Legacy Software is subject to the license type specified in the agreement pursuant to which Client originally acquired the rights to use the Legacy Software ("Legacy Agreement"). Under no circumstances will the terms of the Legacy Agreement be interpreted to expand Client's right to use the Legacy Software beyond the amount specified in a PoE.

The Client may not modify or alter the SDM® assessments provided without prior written approval from either Company or Evident Change. Furthermore, if the Client modifies any assessment within the SDM® system, then the modified assessment cannot be referred to or described as an SDM® assessment unless the Client provides the modified or altered SDM® assessments to Evident Change and obtains Evident Change's prior written approval authorizing the Licensee to refer to the modified or altered assessment(s) as "Structured Decision Making®"
